Education

Ph.D. Epidemiology (2016)

Mathematics & Natural Sciences, University of Groningen, the Netherlands

Thesis: Age-period-cohort methodology: confounding by birth cohort in cardiovascular pharmacoepidemiology

Advisors: Eelko Hak, Stijn Vansteelandt, Fanny Janssen

Thesis opponents: Mikko Myrskylä (LSE), Leo van Wissen (NIDI), Michiel Bots (UMC Utrecht)

M.Sc. Statistical Data Analysis (2014)

Sciences, Ghent University, Belgium

Graduated with distinction

M.Sc. Regional Studies (Research) (2011)

Spatial Sciences, University of Groningen, the Netherlands

Specialization in Population Studies

Graduated with highest distinction

B.Sc. Human Geography (2009)

Spatial Sciences, University of Groningen, the Netherlands

Graduated with highest distinction

Current position

Research Scientist (Nov 2015 – current)

Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research

Previous experience

Visiting Scholar (Upcoming: 15th March – 25th April, 2018)

University of Pennsylvania, Population Studies Center

PhD Fellow (AIO) (1st Oct, 2011 – 30th Sept, 2015)

University of Groningen, research unit Pharmacoepidemiology and Pharmacoeconomics

Visiting Scholar (1st March – 31st May, 2015)

London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, Dept. of Medical Statistics

Visiting Scholar (1st March – 31st March, 2011)

University of Southampton, Dept. of Social Statistics & Demography
